SUGGESTED PHOTOGRAPHIC EQUIPMENT LIST

- 2 X Camera bodies
- Spare batteries
- Macro lens – good for the reptile photo shoot on the Forest Lodge extension in South Africa – otherwise not essential
- Wide angle lens (10mm or 15mm at its widest)
- Short lens (28mm - 135mm)
- Medium lens (70mm - 200mm) or (100mm – 400mm)
- Long lens (500mm or 600mm)
- 1.4 Teleconverter
- Flash with flash extender
- Tripod
- Ballhead
- Wimberley
- Remote shutter release
- Memory cards - depends on the megapixel size of your camera but 4gb or 8gb cards are good (4 cards should be more than enough)
- Storage – either portable harddrives, laptops with external drives – it is good to make 2 copies of your photos whilst on safari 200GB space should be fine for most people (this of course depends on how you shoot and if you shoot RAW or JPEG)

This list is by no means a definitive list and acts only as a guideline based on the equipment that Stu Porter uses and takes on safari with him. If you are concerned about certain items then please contact us for advice or suggestions.
